

Scan the QR codes below to view ASCIA website information on a mobile phone

ASCIA Anaphylaxis e-training

Community and refresher versions are free of charge and can be completed by anyone wanting to learn or refresh their training.
www.allergy.org.au/about-ascia/about-ascia-e-training

ASCIA Anaphylaxis Translations

ASCIA has been providing evidence based anaphylaxis information since 2003 which is translated into 25 languages.
www.allergy.org.au/hp/anaphylaxis/translations-of-anaphylaxis-information

Nip allergies in the Bub to Prevent Food Allergies

Nip allergies in the Bub is a National Allergy Council program, based on ASCIA Guidelines, that aims to prevent food allergies and provides information about eczema management in babies.
<https://preventallergies.org.au/feeding-your-baby/>

Schools and Children's Education/Care (CEC) Services

ASCIA has been providing evidence based ASCIA anaphylaxis e-training for schools and CEC services since 2010. Allergy Aware is a National Allergy Council resource hub that includes Best Practice Guidelines for schools and CEC services.
www.allergy.org.au/schools-childcare

Allergy 250K for Teens and Young Adults with Allergies

Allergy 250K is a National Allergy Council program that provides information and support for teens or young adults with allergies.
<https://allergy250k.org.au/>

Patient and Carer Support

ASCIA collaborates with organisations that support patients with allergy and other immune conditions, and their carers.
www.allergy.org.au/patients/patient-support-organisations

